Why ver.di?

Because...!

There are so many reasons to join ver.di

Without trade unions, today's world would be a very different place. Many of the working and living conditions that we take for granted are the fruit of hard work by the unions – and it is important for us to protect and expand them. To be able to do so, we need a solid foundation of membership – and that's where you come in!

Changes in the world of work, globalization and demographic trends have caused massive political and economic challenges for society. We cannot solve these problems as individuals – what we need is a strong basis of solidarity to represent our interests.

With some 2 million members, ver.di - the United Services Trade Union – represents a counterbalance that can effectively defend the interests of the individual against those of industry and policymakers.

We are constantly striving to improve working conditions and preserve jobs, carrying out collective bargaining, advising works councils and staff committees and pursuing political lobbying at national and international level. And we also involve ourselves in issues affecting society as a whole, for example pensions policy and issues related to health, social security and education.

STRONG WITH VER.DI – STRONG WITH YOU!

Join us – there are so many reasons to become a member of ver.di!

SOLIDARITY and JUSTICE

ONE TRADE UNION FOR ALL

Unity is strength! We consolidate the interests of our members – and by working together empower the individual! We create unity out of diversity. Unlike professional associations, we bring together people from quite different occupations within one industry. We set solidarity against group egoism and everyone pulls in the same direction.

A JUST BASIS FOR SUBSCRIPTIONS

Those who have more, pay more – those with less money pay less. Our members subscribe one percent of their basic gross income to support the union and enable it to operate effectively. And the jobless pay a reduced subscription. The subscription is also tax-deductible.

EXERTING AN INFLUENCE

ver.di is a tireless advocate of the right to work, acceptable workplace and training conditions, fair rates of pay, equal pay for equal work, an acceptable minimum wage, a good work/life balance and a health policy based on the principle of solidarity...

UPHOLDING INDIVIDUAL RIGHTS IN THE WORKPLACE

ver.di supports basic workplace rights, co-determination, equality and recognition. It supports and advises youth representatives, works councillors and staff council members with the aim of ensuring effective representation of employees' interests and providing every member with support in disputes with his or her employer or client.

REPRESENTING EMPLOYEES' INTERESTS WORLD-WIDE

ver.di representatives work at international level to improve working conditions and ensure that employees are not played off against one another.

GETTING INVOLVED IN VER.DI

ver.di is a democratic organisation: everyone is invited to become actively involved in determining the union's policies. That is the purpose of the members' assemblies, collective bargaining committees and company-specific groups. ver.di members work in works and staff councils together with their organisation and trade union secretaries to find solutions, for example to in-company problems. Our representatives also bring their skills to bear in the supervisory bodies of sickness and pension insurances, statutory insurance and accident prevention institutions and collecting societies.

PROTECTION and SECURITY

LEGAL RIGHTS DERIVED FROM COLLECTIVE AGREEMENTS

ver.di members employed in companies subject to collective agreements enjoy the protection offered by such agreements. And they receive support when they have to enforce their rights. Non-members can only hope that the employer grants collectively agreed payments – they do not have any legal claim to them.

COLLECTIVE AGREEMENTS REGULATE WORKING CONDITIONS BETTER THAN MANY LAWS

In addition to wages, collective agreements also regulate working times, vacation entitlements, vacation bonuses and many other matters – to the advantage of employees. Many collective agreements, for example, contain an entitlement to 30 days' vacation on the basis of a 5-day week. Without a collective agreement or equivalent employment contract, federal law applies – and vacation entitlement shrinks to a mere four weeks. Special payments such as vacation bonuses are only secured by collective agreements. This also applies to release from work in special cases.

COMPETENT LEGAL ADVICE AND REPRESENTATION

An important service offered by ver.di is the provision of legal advice. Whether labour, or social law is involved, competent advisors are available to help members. And if a legal dispute arises, legal specialists offer not only advice but also comprehensive, free-of-charge legal protection – only for members, of course. ver.di legal protection even covers representation in court, if necessary. This applies equally to disputes involving the social security system, pension and accident insurance companies, the statutory insurance scheme or the Federal Labour Agency.

STRIKE PAY DURING INDUSTRIAL DISPUTES

Sometimes collective bargaining grinds to a halt or employers try to force through their own point of view and industrial action becomes unavoidable. As employers do not continue to pay wages during strikes or lockouts, ver.di intervenes to help its members, providing strike pay to help them avoid financial hardship.

EFFECTIVE REPRESENTATION OF MUTUAL INTERESTS AT WORK

Member assemblies, collective bargaining committees, shop stewards, statutory and in-company representatives and ver.di work together to protect your interests and resolve in-company problems.

INFORMATION and TRAINING

BE BETTER INFORMED

In addition to the members' magazine ver.di-Publik, members also receive the supplement for their particular sector and special information on current social, economic and sectoral issues. There are newsletters on various different topics – and of course also the possibility of face-to-face conversations. ver.di members are quite simply better informed!

JOIN THE VER.DI MEMBERS' NETWORK

The ver.di members' network is more than just a one-stop shop for services – it also offers scope for becoming actively involved as well as containing commentaries and assessments related to various aspects of policy: mitgliedernetz.verdi.de
